Originally conceived by a group of passionate homebrewers and industry professionals, the goal was to create a standardized system that could elevate the quality and consistency of beer judging at competitions.

Over the decades, the BJCP has grown from a niche community initiative into an internationally recognized program. It now serves as a foundation for professional judging, homebrewing competitions, and educational outreach. The evolution of the BJCP reflects the explosive growth of craft brewing and the increasing importance placed on beer quality and style recognition.

Structure of the BJCP

The BJCP's structure is designed to accommodate a range of participants, from casual homebrewers to professional brewers and industry experts. Its core components include certification levels, a detailed style guide, and a judging process.

- Certified Advanced Beer Judge (CABJ): An advanced certification for seasoned judges with demonstrated expertise, extensive tasting experience, and a broader understanding of beer styles and brewing techniques.

Some regions or events may recognize or emphasize additional specialized certifications or endorsements, but the CBJ and CABJ remain the primary benchmarks.

The Beer Style Guide

A cornerstone of the BJCP is its comprehensive Style Guide, which classifies beers into categories based on appearance, aroma, flavor, mouthfeel, and overall impression. The guide is regularly updated to reflect evolving brewing trends, emerging styles, and industry feedback.

The guide encompasses:
